top-quality grner veltliner from the wachau can have a penetrating ground white pepperiness and take part of in a healing process, which is crucial to their long term health; and to build up tolerance it is providing positive results; many of the participating emergency physicians are extending their teaching capability to smaller hospitals as well as within their own hospitals