u.s men still hold roughly nine of every 10 highest-paid management and board positions, a ratio that could be substantial," the scientists said.
in addition, some prostaglandin analogues are abortifacients.