As men age, they experience an increase in aromatase activity, thus their estradiol levels rise. This increased aromatization occurs as a result of increased adipose tissue.