we noted that both the dr fox website and its associated pharmacy were registered pharmacies and as such, they were authorised to display the internet pharmacy logo and use the term 'pharmacy'.

i have about 10 different types of foundation primers in my kit so that i always have the right one for my clients, sometimes i will use different ones in different areas of the face