the patients taking daily turmeric supplements experienced a much lower relapse rate than patients taking placebo over a period of six months.

rather, the buddha is considered a hindu sage, and his followers in india consider themselves buddhist hindus a grower can flood the market for shallots, for example, by bringing on just five or six acres of them