This is generally the manner in which cocaine is shipped from Colombia or other cocaine producing countries to the United States and other consuming countries.

It was the chemists providing pharmaceuticals over the counter to men with expensive heroin addictions that created the IDU epidemic in the mid-1990s.

Honokiol is one of several polyphenols that have been isolated from the bark and seed cones of the magnolia tree.